

New concept of statistical ensembles

M.I. Gorenstein

*Bogolyubov Institute for Theoretical Physics, Kiev, Ukraine,
E-mail: goren@bitp.kiev.ua*

An extension of the standard concept of the statistical ensembles is suggested. Namely, a class of statistical ensembles with extensive quantities fluctuating according to an externally given distribution is introduced. Several examples in high energy physics are discussed. The proposed approach opens a room for new applications.